ARVO journals are fully open access and online only, allowing unrestricted access to their content by anyone from anywhere, unlike subscription journals that restrict access to authorized users. They are internationally recognized for their quality and are affiliated with ARVO, the most prestigious international eye research organization. All three journals are listed in all major citation databases (Web of Science, SCOPUS, PubMed, etc.) and all have received Impact Factors.

Investigative Ophthalmology & Visual Science | iovs.arvojournals.org

Launched in 1962, IOVS had been publishing the highest quality basic eye research for the last 60 years emphasizing original clinical and laboratory hypothesis-based research with statistically valid results that clearly advance knowledge of the normal and abnormal processes impacting vision. The scope of IOVS is broad, covering the research interests of all 13 ARVO Sections. IOVS has a broad scope, having published over 25,000 articles and 120,000 Annual Meeting abstracts.

- 2021 Impact Factor of 4.925; the most cited ophthalmology journal
- Exposure: 5,239,381 hits from May 1, 2021 – April 30, 2022; monthly average is 436,615*
- 381 articles published in 2021

Translational Vision Science & Technology | tvst.arvojournals.org

Launched in 2012, Translational Vision Science & Technology (TVST) complements IOVS by publishing translational research that bridges the gap between basic research and clinical care. TVST recently expanded its scope to include all stages of clinical trials, as well as studies focused on outcomes and effectiveness of clinical practice in communities. After receiving its first impact factor and introducing the expanded scope in 2020, TVST more than doubled its annual number of published articles.

- 2021 Impact Factor of 3.048
- Exposure: 425,196 hits from May 1, 2021 – April 30, 2022; monthly average is 35,433*
- 419 articles published in 2021

Journal of Vision | jov.arvojournals.org

The Journal of Vision (JOV) is devoted to all aspects of visual function in humans and other organisms. Its scope overlaps with ARVO’s Visual Psychophysics/Physiological Optics and Visual Neuroscience Sections, but also with our sister Vision Science Society. JOV was pioneering in 2001 in its adoption of online only publication, and all electronic processing. It is respected for hands-on datasets and models that users can easily manipulate online, as well as for the quality of its science.

- 2021 Impact Factor of 2.004
- Exposure: 1,126,259 hits from May 1, 2021 – April 30, 2022; monthly average is 93,855*
- 206 articles published in 2021
